

PRINCIPAL UPDATE

Premier Daniel Andrews has announced that he will reveal a roadmap to reopening the state this Sunday. This will hopefully provide us with a greater insight in to what will be happening for the industrial sector and schools in term 4.

All we have heard through the media at this stage is that different industry groups will be rated according to their level of risk and there may be a possible traffic light system introduced.

- Closed (red)
- Heavily restricted (orange)
- Restricted (yellow)
- Open with a COVID-safe plan (green)

Six COVID-safe principles will continue to apply:

- Ensuring physical distancing
- Wearing a mask
- Practising good hygiene
- Acting quickly if staff become unwell
- Creating workforce bubbles

We will hopefully hear which traffic light level will apply to each sector on Sunday and where schools fit in to this new arrangement. We truly hope that we will be seeing children back at school next term—fingers crossed!

Please note that we always hear this information at the same time as you—often through the media. We will give you an update as soon as the Department of Education have provided us with specific details on the plans for schools.

PREP INFORMATION NIGHT

On Wednesday 2nd September we held our Prep 2021 Information Night via webex. Unfortunately we have been unable to conduct physical tours and meet parents and children in person, but this was the next best thing given our current circumstances. I would like to thank all of the parents who attended and our Assistant Principal—Kris Grinsted and prep teaching team—Kylie Baker, Damian Brennan and Sarah Wilde for providing an insight in to our amazing school. We hope to be able to provide physical tours and properly showcase our fabulous school in person if restrictions are lifted in term 4. We are really looking forward to meeting our new preps and their parents for 2021!

We hope that children, parents and teachers have enjoyed our last two Wellbeing Wednesdays. From the photographs emailed to us and the smiles on faces it looks like these days were a big hit.

To keep children engaged we have decided to change things a little for next week. As you will see on your child's weekly planner we will be having a Tyabb Primary Sports Extravaganza on Friday 11th September. Please refer to the flyer further on for greater detail. We hope the children have lots of fun on this day.

MANAGING THE CORONA-COASTER SUMMARY OF WEBINAR BY Michael Carr-Gregg

We recently sent you an invite to a webinar by psychologist, Dr Michael Carr-Gregg providing advice to parents during these challenging times. Michael Carr-Gregg is always engaging and provides practical parenting tips for both young children and teenagers. The following are some of the tips provided during this session. Please note that some of these tips are more appropriate for teenagers.

Parents should be purveyors of hope

- Set the emotional tone – taking the coronavirus seriously but convey we are not panicking eg This is all very inconvenient but our grandparents faced worse
- Politicians are doing their best to flatten the curve, while also supporting families/businesses
- If we keep doing the right thing, we may return to normality sooner

What can parents do?

- Check in regularly to see how they are doing – Intervening early is important. When the situation and relationship gets to a certain level of stress, it can be much harder to decompress
- Go for a walk together – Getting outside of the house together is a good way to get active, as well as connecting with them, or just being quiet together
- Help them keep in touch – Organise, or help them to organise, closed social media groups for those people teenagers are closest to

- Stay calm when talking about COVID-19 – Explain the dangers of COVID-19 calmly and without sensationalising it. Remind them that there are trustworthy news sources and not to spend too much time researching
- Accept that we can't control everything – Focus on the important issues and try and manage those
- Give them space - Make sure your child gets some confidential private space when they're at home, as well as time away from siblings or elderly family members
- As lock down relaxes, renegotiate young people's options for leaving the house
- Reward them for complying – Small fun treats or start a little fund of money saved to do something fun
- Have something to look forward to – Plan something big, like a party, celebration, day out or weekend away at the end of all of this
- Try not to over rely on them – While everyone has their jobs within the family, try not to over rely on them occupying younger siblings, for example. And if they do agree to help with them, acknowledge and reward their efforts.
- Have fun - Make time to do fun things as a family, whatever that looks like for you
- Try and stick to some kind of routine – It's worth repeating: trying to maintain a normal sleep, food, exercise, school work, free time and family time routine will help things not feel so chaotic. Healthy eating and sleeping routine are also important for their overall physical and mental health.
- Increase your child's trusted circle – Meaning, make sure they still have contact with extended family or other important people in their lives. Think about who your child goes to with their issues and problems. This is someone who cares about your child's safety, who offers good practical advice, who recognises how hard it is and who can help them think about some good solutions.
- Make sure they know support lines they can use to talk to someone. (Kids Helpline—1800 551 800).
- Help them develop different coping strategies – home exercise, cooking, relaxation techniques.
- Talk to them about the things they find relaxing and encourage them to take part in them.
- Keep connected – Catching up and staying connected with friend apps such as Houseparty, Facetime, Zoom and Online games can be great, but also make sure to talk to teenagers about their safety online. Let them know that they can talk to you if they are worried about anything online.

The Department of Education Student Support Officers are pleased to be able to offer a session called “Managing your family's wellbeing during remote learning,” to parents remotely!

They are a team of provisional psychologists who are very aware of the increased challenges faced by parents during remote learning. During the current pandemic, parents are juggling many different roles and understandably experiencing greater levels of stress and new challenges. They are offering a wellbeing telehealth session focused on the difficulties faced by parents during remote learning and plan to discuss some tips and strategies to help guide their wellbeing.

If you would be interested in attending this webinar, please email the school and provide your name, phone number and email address. If there are any specific questions you may have for this night, please also email these to the school:

School Communication through Flexischools App

With the sudden closure of the Flexibuzz App, our school has now introduced a new app called Flexischools. Owned by the same company, this App is easy to use and has the same features. This will become our main communication platform and will be used to send notifications. To keep up to date with the latest at school we highly recommend that all parents download this App.

Flexischools allows you to get information from the school in a matter of seconds, at any time of the day.

1. Download the Flexischools App

Note: for iPhone and iPad please select 'Allow' notifications.

2. Add your School and Group

Click on the search icon, enter your school name, select your school and year group, or groups relevant to you. Please ensure you just choose a year level as the grade boxes are from when it was Flexibuzz and we will be removing those boxes.

3. Login/Register

Click the 'Order now' button located in the bottom right-hand corner of the app, this will open a login screen.

- Already a Flexischools user - Enter your details and login. To save your login details select 'remember me'.
- New Flexischools user - Click 'Register', enter your email address and follow the instructions in the email to set up your account. Once your account is set up, add new student; search for your school, enter student details and select their class.

Once registered, you can start getting communications immediately. If you have any questions, please contact the Flexischools Customer Service Team on 1300 361 769, or you can contact them via their website. Or alternatively call the school office.
