SCHOOL CONCERT 2024

THE GREAT PRIMARY SCHOOL MYSTERY

During the last couple of weeks of Term 3 our students performed in our 2024 School Concert, 'The Great Primary School Mystery'. What a fabulous concert! Our kids attended their STOMP dance lessons each week and worked hard to practise their dances and put on an amazing show. We are super proud of our kids—a huge achievement!

We thank Mikayla our dance teacher from Stomp for teaching our students their dances – they looked fabulous! Thanks also to our grade teachers for supporting their students with the dances and for making costumes. We also appreciate the support of all of our staff, including specialist teachers and Education Support Staff who contributed in a variety of ways, attending all concerts in support of our students. A special thanks to all of the parents who helped to make costumes

Lastly a huge thanks to Mrs Barcnas our very talented music teacher. Thank you for your hard work, commitment and the countless extra hours worked since the start of the year to ensure that the concert came together on the night and that our students had an enjoyable and memorable experience.

Congratulations and thank you!

Our lead actors told a story about the students and teachers of Tyabb Primary School and the mystery of the missing Principal and their science experiment. With the help of the Greatest Primary School Detectives of All Time they searched the school, finding the principal who had disappeared as a result of their own experiment. Our leads worked hard and the hours of practice paid off as they remembered their lines (ad libbing when needed!!), capturing the attention and enthusiasm of their audience. I would like to acknowledge the efforts of the following lead actors listed below.

Casey Closed – Lochlan
Justin Case – Hudson
Principal – Kiahna
Assistant Principal – Ruth
Receptionist – Isla
Sports Teacher – Isaac

Term 3 - Star Citizens

The Star Citizen Award is presented to students who display the school values of respect, responsibility, safety, integrity and optimism to a high standard all the time. They speak politely to staff and other students. Show care for themselves and others. Help students and teachers who are in need of assistance. Treat others and themselves with respect and give all activities their best effort. Students are selected through a nomination process conducted within their year levels with student and teacher input. Congratulations to the following students:

Gr 3 Zac

Gr 4 Maya

Gr 5 Finn

FOOTY FEVER!!

It was terrific to end the term with our annual football parade and see our students wear the colours of their favourite football teams and parade to their footy anthems. Thank you to our MCs Cobi Davies and Jess Caron for organising the parade and football games. The smiles on everyone's faces showed our students love for their football teams and the enjoyment they received from the event. Well done to the Brisbane Lions for an amazing season and for winning the 2024 grand final!!!!

PS Mrs Grinsted and I are currently recruiting for students who barrack for North Melbourne—only 2 students this year. It is interesting to watch student numbers change each year as footy teams become leaders on the ladder.!!! GO ROOS!!!!!!!!!!!!

School preparations for bushfire season

Each year, to prepare for bushfires and grassfires, schools and early childhood services complete a range of activities. The Department of Education runs an annual fire risk assessment of schools and early childhood services. They are allocated a category of risk (categories 0 to 4) and are published on the Bushfire At-Risk Register (BARR). All schools and early childhood services listed on the BARR and Category 4 list will also close when a Catastrophic fire danger rating day is forecast in their fire weather district. When the Bureau of Meteorology provides public fire danger rating forecasts or fire weather warnings, they use fire weather district areas. In Victoria, there are 9 fire weather districts, which are based on Local Government Area boundaries. Our school is in Central fire weather district. As part of preparing our school for the fire season, we have updated and completed our Emergency Management Plan and prioritised maintenance works that may assist in preparing for the threat of fire and cleared our facility's grounds and gutters.

What does this mean for our school?

Our school has been identified as being at risk of bushfire or grassfire and is a Category 3 school. Our school will close on a day forecasted as Catastrophic fire danger rating in Central fire district. We are on the BARR (Bushfire at Risk Register).

What is the department's policy?

The department's Bushfire and Grassfire Preparedness Policy requires all schools and early childhood services on the BARR list to close when a Catastrophic fire danger rating day is forecast in their fire weather district. All school bus routes which travel in or through a district with Catastrophic fire danger must also be cancelled.

When will our school be closed due to Catastrophic fire danger?

Our school will close on a day forecasted as Catastrophic fire danger rating in central fire district. Closure of the school due to a forecast Catastrophic day will be confirmed on the day prior and we will provide you with advice before the end of the school day. Any information regarding potential or confirmed Catastrophic fire danger days will be communicated to you by SMS and via a Sentral Post.

Once confirmed, the decision to close will not change, even if the weather forecast changes. This is to avoid confusion and help your family plan alternative care arrangements for your child. It is also important to be aware that:

- No one will be on site on days where the school is closed due to a forecast Catastrophic day.
- Out-of-school-hours care will also be cancelled on these days.
- All bus routes that travel through the Catastrophic area will be cancelled.
- School camps will be cancelled if a Catastrophic fire danger rating day is forecast for fire weather district in which the camp is located, or if the travel involves passing through areas that have Catastrophic fire danger.

Families are encouraged to action their Bushfire Survival Plan on Catastrophic fire danger rating days. On such days, children should never be left at home alone or in the care of older children. For those of us living in a bushfire prone area, the Country Fire Authority (CFA) advises that when Catastrophic days are forecast, the safest option is to leave the night before or early on the morning of the Catastrophic day.

What can families and the school community do to help us prepare?

- Ensure we have your current contact details, including your mobile phone numbers.
- Keep in touch with us by reading our newsletters, checking our website, by talking to your child's teacher or any other member of staff about our emergency management plan.
- Make sure your family's bushfire survival plan is up-to-date and includes alternative care arrangements in the event that our school is closed due to a Catastrophic fire danger. Further information can be found on the CFA's website.
- Action your family's bushfire survival plan if your own triggers are met. Our school community may be spread out across many areas and some families may be at higher risk than others. Your family's safety is critical, so please let us know if you are actioning your bushfire survival plan and if your children will be absent on these days.
- If your child is old enough, talk to them about bushfires and your family's bushfire survival plan.

Fair Play for Children

One of the hardest times for our children is when they are having problems with their friends and knowing how to help them through this journey. It can be emotional for both parents and the children. Please have a read of the tips below that were sourced from: raisingchildren.net.au

Children and fair play

Playing fair is about learning and using the rules of the game and putting them into practice – whether they're special family rules for card or board games, or the rules at Saturday sport.

Fair play is also about learning social rules, like co-operating, taking turns, being polite, solving problems and being flexible.

Playing fair helps children enjoy the experience of playing together. It's also an important part of getting along with others. And when children get along well with others, it gives them a sense of belonging and helps them grow and thrive.

Helping children with fair play

You can use the following tips to help children of any age learn about fair play and enjoying the game.

Consider the age of your child: children can learn about fair play more easily when the game is suitable for their age. For example, children younger than 6-7 years find it hard to understand formal rules. Simple games that give each child a turn can work well for younger children – for example, 'snakes and ladders'. Short waiting times can help too.

Give your child the chance to play a variety of games: the more experience and practice the better. Try board and ball games, competitive games of skill like chess, competitive games of chance, and cooperative games like charades. Even make-believe games can help children practice taking turns.

Find a range of playmates: it's good for your child to play with children who are older or younger. For example, your child can look after younger children and show them the rules. Older children can also be good role models for younger children.

Go over the rules of the game: before the game starts, make sure everyone knows what the rules are and how they make the game fair. You might also need to gently remind children of the rules as you play.

Introduce some social rules: these could be rules about taking turns and congratulating other people when they win.

Encourage children to have a say in the rules: if you're playing a game with flexible or made-up rules, ask children what the rules should be. For example, 'If the ball goes out of bounds, what do you think should happen?' Children who feel they've had a say in the rules are more likely to follow them.

Give feedback: praise your child for sharing, taking turns and other examples of playing fair. Point out what your child did well. For example, 'I thought it was great the way you shook hands with the other team at the end of the game'.

Children learn about fair play by watching what you say and do. Following the rules, accepting referee decisions and being a good sport yourself all set a great example for your children. You can be a good role model on the sidelines too by saying things like, 'Better luck next time', 'Good try' or 'Well played'.

Fair play and competition

Competition can be good for children.

When children compete against each other, the game becomes a challenge and motivates children to do their best. This can improve skills, encourage discipline and focus, and help children feel good about their achievements.

Competition also increases the desire to win. And that's when children can sometimes find it hard to play fair. Because they want to win, they might challenge rules and other players. Some might get into arguments with their team mates and even start cheating.

Competition checklist

Competition works best when there are clear, fair and age-appropriate rules that everyone understands and agrees to follow before the game starts. It's also good if children are all at the same skill level.

Fair Play for Children

These questions that can help you work out whether a competitive game will be a positive experience for your child:

Is the game suitable for your child's age? Modify the game to suit your child's age, or let your child know they can play it when they're older.

Does your child have an opportunity to win? Switch to a game of chance where your child has the same chance of winning as all the other players.

Is the opponent playing fair? Sometimes you might need to step in and remind the players of the rules.

What about competitive sport? Children deal better with competition as they get older. If your child is younger and interested in trying a sport, you could look for modified sports like Cricket Blast, Aussie Hoops basketball, NetSetGO netball, Come and Try Rugby, and Auskick football.

When children aren't playing fair

Here are ideas for those times when your child is finding it hard to play fair:

Take your child out of the game and tell them calmly and clearly what they can do to play fairly. For example, 'The rules say that you can have only one throw each turn. It's important that everyone follows the rules'.

Handle the challenging behaviour if it continues. For example, you might have to sit your child out of the rest of the game, and talk with them later when they calm down.

Talk with your child about their feelings and what they should do next time. Before your child plays the next game, you could try setting up some ground rules. For example, 'If you complain about the rules, I'll have to stop you from playing the game'.

Remind your child that games are about having fun, not about winning or losing.

If your child is boasting about winning, try praising them for their efforts in other areas – for example, for cooperating with others, sharing or being helpful.

Winning and losing

How your child plays the game is more important than winning or losing. When your child understands this, they'll be a 'good sport' and have fun playing, no matter whether they win or lose.

Winning is a great feeling, and it's OK for your child to feel proud of being the winner. It's also important for your child to be a good winner. This means showing sympathy and support to the losing team or player. If you can, try to discourage your child from boasting. Instead you can highlight the fun that everyone had playing the game.

If your child loses a game, it can help to emphasise how well they played. This is really important in helping your child handle uncomfortable feelings. Praise your child's efforts. For example, 'You were great at helping the younger kids' or 'You followed the rules really well'.

Children – and even adults – find it easier to lose in a game of luck than in a game of skill. This is because losing a game of chance doesn't say anything about you or your abilities. If your child is having difficulty dealing with losing, try playing games of chance first, then build up to skill-based activities.

Some games of chance include 'snakes and ladders' or 'snap'.

Games of skill include Connect 4, chess and Pick-up sticks.

Letting your child win can keep them interested in the game and boost their confidence. You can let young children win from time to time, especially if they're playing against older people. But letting your child win all the time can make it harder for them to learn that they won't always win in the real world. It might also make real winning less satisfying.

Maths Mindset

“Let’s do some maths!” A simple statement that can elicit wildly different responses in both adults and children. From “Woo hoo!” to “Heck no!” and everything in between. We all have things we love or hate but no other school subject seems to bring out the same level of frustration or abject terror as maths. Maths anxiety is a real thing with both adults and children feeling a negative mental and/or physical response to the prospect of doing maths.

Teachers at Tyabb have been working really hard over the past few years to reduce the levels of maths anxiety experienced by our students. Our maths lessons often include games or activities that are fun and engaging. We use story-telling and narrative to help children make personal connections to the mathematics, and we plan for activities that are accessible to students of all levels meaning everyone can experience success.

This week our grade 3-6 students will get a visit from The Maths Mindset Show. This is a live show that aims to help students build their confidence and instil within them the self-belief that everyone can do maths.

So what can you do at home to help a child who finds maths challenging?

- Try to remain positive - sharing that you hate maths too and that it is just too hard reinforces that ‘just give up’ attitude. By all means validate your child’s feelings but using phrases like ‘I can’t do it yet.’ rather than ‘I can’t do it.’ are really important to build resilience.
- Encourage and reward effort and persistence.
- Notice and talk about the maths you do in everyday life.

1A Classroom Capers

Term 3 was a busy one and 1A soaked up the atmosphere! We loved celebrating Book Week and coming as our favourite book characters. We had some awesome costumes which we enjoyed showing off on stage at the Book Week Parade!

Footy Day was one of our favourite days so far this year. We dressed up in our team colours and enjoyed a day filled with events and excitement. The parade and the footy activities in the hall were fun for everyone. What better way to finish the day off than with a sausage (or two) in bread. Yum!

We represented New Zealand in the Tyabb Mini Olympics Opening Ceremony and Games. We learnt lots about the country and followed their progress in Paris. Australia is still our favourite but the Kiwis got a big cheer from 1A when they won their first gold medal!

Perhaps the biggest and best event in Term 3 was our school concert. Although we were a little nervous performing on stage for the first time, it was exciting dressing up in our costumes and dancing to "Down Like That". We were very proud of ourselves on the night.

Physical Education

On Wednesday 9th of October, 19 students from across grades 4, 5 and 6 competed at the Division Athletics held at the Mornington Athletics Track.

The weather was nice and sunny which made for perfect athletics conditions which helped our students perform their best. We had students competing in track events such as 100m, 200m, hurdles, 800m, 1500m and 2 relay teams. We also had students compete in field events such as high jump, long jump, triple jump and discus. All students who competed did an outstanding effort and should be congratulated on their efforts.

We would like to congratulate Ed for finishing 3rd in discus, Asiani who finished 1st in both the 1500m and 800m race. The 10 year old boys relay team who finished 1st which consisted of Jy, Jhai, Sam and Jackson and Sam who finished 1st in high jump. These students will be representing themselves and Tyabb at the Regional Athletics held at Casey Fields on the 21st of October. Good luck to those students.

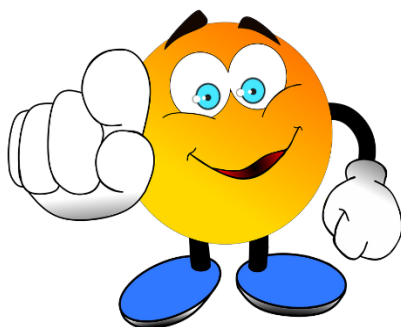

Thank you to all the parents who came down to support our children yesterday.
